Finding your Ring Size

One of the most important steps when shopping for a ring is finding your ring size. This is important so that you can make sure you get a ring that fits! Here at Simply Ringz all the rings are sized in US ring sizes.

There are two different ways I recommend to find your ring size.

#1: Visit a local Jeweler:

I highly recommend visiting a local jewelry store to confirm your ring size.

It is always best to get sized at home due to the fact that most people are swollen when they come to Aruba. This can be due to the flight, the food, the alcohol, the weather or any number of things. When you are at home you are in, for you, normal conditions so the ring size will then be correct.

Also please get sized in the width ring that you would want. I have 4mm, 6mm, 8mm, 10mm rings.

This process is usually free and is the most accurate way to get the correct size!

Jewelers usually offer this free of charge because they want to make sure that their customers know what size to look for. It is always good to visit multiple jewelers to make sure you know your size.

If you want me to size you when you are here (#2), there is a risk that the ring will be a bit big when you get home.

#2: Use a Ring Sizer to Find Your Ring Size or let me do it personally:

I understand that not anyone has a ring sizer handy so the best way is to let me measure your ring size personally and then let me get to work on a ring that will fit you perfectly.

Please keep in mind that there is a risk that the ring will be a bit big when you get home because of any swelling going down.

What Happens If I Get My Ring Size Wrong?

I make all of my rings to specification using the ring size and width that you provide.

My rings cannot generally be resized but if for any reason the information you provide is inaccurate or you are swollen and when you get home the ring is too big, then out of loyalty to you as a customer you can exchange your ring for a new one.

Please take into consideration that I have a waiting list so a little patience will be required to receive your new ring.

Please contact me and we can always get it sorted out!
